Death Takes Mrs. Searls, Mother Of Nevada City's Famous Searls Brothers

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR ESTEEMED FORMER NEVADA CITY RESIDENT WILL BE HELD TOMORROW

The city council last night adjourned out of respect to the late Mrs. Helen Searls, who died Tuesday night in San Francisco and requested the business houses to close during the hour of the graveside services Saturday afternoon.

The rosolution adopted by the council follows:

"Among the Pioneers of those Glorious Golden Days of '49 and '50, were many men and women of education and culture. Nevada City drew more than her share. We had many outstanding citizens of finest talents and attainments, foremost among them was the Searls family, who have been intimately connected with this city in various capacities since it was first incorporated to the present day. Their record has been outstanding. We are justly proud of them all. A wise creator has seen fit to remove the most exalted member of this outstanding family, the mother, Mrs. Helen Searls. This city council, in special session, adjourns their meeting as a mark of respect to this noble woman and earnestly requests that business houses close for an hour for the graveside services at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

BEN HALL, Mayor.

Final rites will be conducted at the Halstead Funeral Parlor in San Francisco tomorrow for Mrs. Helen Pond Searls, mother of the engineers, doctors and lawyers, and one of the most tseeemed former residents of Nevada City.

Mrs. Searls, who was often a visitor at the Searls home place here on Main Street when her health would permit died in San Francisco at 6 o'clock Tuesday night.

Following the funeral services in San Francisco the body will be cremated and the ashes brought to Nevada City and buried in the family plot in the Masonic Cemetery. The graveside services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday afternoon. The Holmes Funeral Home will have charge of the graveside rites here.

The death of Mrs. Searls recalled her life here. She was a past president of Laurel Parlor No. 6. Native Daughters of the Golden West and assisted in the organizing of the Nevada City Shakespeare Club, which is no longer in existence.

Mrs. Searls was well known for her kindness and local philanthropies. She was active in church, fraternal and social life of the community. Her husband, the late Fred Searls, Sr., was one of the prominent men of the county.

Her family was Mrs. Searls pride and joy. Her pride in her children was shared by all Nevada Cityans. All have made their marks in the world and are among Nevada City's natives who brought fame to themselves and their home town.

The children are Fred, Jr., of the Newmont Mining Corporation, Robert M., famous San Francisco attorney, Carroll Searls, prominent New York attorney, Dr. Henry H. Searls, one of the best known physicians on the Pacific Coast. Niles P. Sears and Mrs. William Brady.

All of the children received their diplomas from the Nevada City High School and later attended the Univesity of California.

Their mother was born to Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Pond in Downieville on October 3, 1858. She was married to the late Fred Searls on August 6, 1885.

Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

Well, now we know what Harry See did to win the praise of Sierra and Placer county editors. He phoned Downieville folk that the bill appropriating money to pay claimants for damage resulting from big flood some years ago, had been signed He also chatted with the Director of the Board of Public works on the condition of the Downieville highway. Ho! Hum!

But dimly we begin to perceive a great light. The foundation is being laid for a campaign, we strongly suspect, for a race against State Senator Seawell, Claim every thing in sight including de-curving Mae West road. Get a friendly editor to put your story on Page One, and to give you a boost editorially, and presently you are out in front taking manly strides toward the goal in the state senate chamber. That is part of the recipe. If you happen to belong to one of the Railroad Brotherhoods and the incumbent does also, that gives a zip and zest to the race. If he is a Republican and you think that 1944 is another Democratic year, that adds zip and punch.

But 1944 is more than two years away. To be sure, but you can never start flexing those leg muscles too soon. In the meantime a year from now, in fact, there will be a governor and other state officers elected, and the preliminary sprints may have proved by then to be just so much surplsage. Still our suspicions respecting the aspirations of one Harry See will linger until events prove them baseless.

We hope that the proverbial short memory of the electorate will prove just an inch or two longer next year. We surmise that Governor Olson will be a candidate to succeed himself, and we do hope that all those who are not directly beneficiaries of our spendthrift executive, will remember the odoriferous scandals that attended the SRA relief for the entire time it functioned under Olson, two and a half years during which he made the tax payers suffer in order to quell incipient riots among those he had promised jobs to before the election. Some of the millions wasted on SRA were for the relief of Governor Olson, oppressed by an avid throng of henchmen yammering for pie. Let us try to remember that, and let us not forget that moving California's finances out of the red and into the black, was done by a staunch and trustworthy "economy bloc," over the governor's prostrate body, so to speak. And among the leaders of the "economy bloc" was Senator Seawell.

Judge Sentences Man To Jail To Give His Wife a Rest

"In order to give your wife a rest for a while," said Justice of the Peace Charles Morehouse yesterday to Fred Mervin Yocum, 34, Grass Valley miner charged with beating his wife, "I am going to give you 90 days in the county jail."

The sentence was imposed by Justice Morehouse after Mrs Yocum told him her husband frequently drank to excess and then beat her. Mrs. Yocum filed a battery charge against her husband following an asserted beating at his hands Tuesday night.

Yocum began serving his jail sentence at the county jail in this city yesterday.

Local Couple Will Make Home In San Jose

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trevillyan, who were married in Reno, Nev., during the weekend, will make their future home in San Jose, where Trevillyan has accepted employment.

Mrs. Trevillyan is the former Peggy Manley of Nevada City. The bride had worked for Mr. and Mrs. George Legg.

Trevillyan, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Trevillyan of this city, formerly was employed at the Penrose Grocery.

Supervisors Set $1.60 Tax Rate

The tax rate for Nevada County for the fiscal year, 1941-42, was officially set at $1.60 per $100 valuation by the board of supervisors here yesterday afternoon.

The rate is the same as established in the preliminary county budget. The supervisors reduced the elementary school rate by 12 cents per $100 valuatin as a result of the elimination of the appropriation set aside in the preliminary budget for a kindergarten in Nevada City. The elementary school rate for this city now stands at 76 cents per $100 valuation.

The $1.60 rate, broken down, reveals a $1.16 rate for general funds; 32 cents salaries; 10 cents for junior college tuition and two cents for veterans buildings.

The rate for interest and debt redemption in the Nevada School District is 22 cents and the Nevada High School District 40 cents.

During the fiscal year $1,486.67 was allowed in the general county and special districts revenue budgets. The general operation of the county business will entail a cost of $465,983 while salaries will amount to $61,275. For junior college tuition $17,008 will be expended and $5,605 on veterans buildings.

Former Nevada County Workers Do Not Find "Greener Pastures"

A gradual increase in Nevada County mines employment is noted, although many workers of this area have departed for other fields of endeavor since the defense boom.

Mining operators agree things looked dark during the past several months because many of their experienced employees were leaving for the "greener pastures."

But this week they were optimistic. Many of their former employees are not finding the pastures any "greener" elsewhere and are returning to their old jobs.

Employment in the Nevada City-Grass Valley district mines increased 39 this month over last month and men are being added to the payrolls daily.

At the Idaho- Maryland Mine it was reported men who have left are asking for their old jobs back. A telephone call was received yesterday by a former employee now in San Diego asking for his old job. A night telegram from Michigan from a former employee asking for a job was received and letters come in daily from men wanting to know if they can again go to work for the Idaho-Maryland Corporation.

In June the Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation employed 730 men. In July the employment figure reached 756 and is still advancing.

The total employment figures for the county in the mining industry aare 2,268 with a payroll of $340,200. Last month the employment are 2,268 with a payroll of $340,350.

Employment at the Lava Cap dropped slightly during the past month. General Manager Otto Schiffner reports his experienced men have been leaving but their places have been filled by the employment of inexperienced men.

At the Empire, North Star, Pennsylvania, Murchie and Zeibright of the Empire-Star Mines, Ltd., employment showed little change from the previous month.

A survey of the employment shows the following figures:

EARLY FEUD IN WYOMING THEME AT ROTARY CLUB

Bruce Dennison of the Placer Junior College history department, today addressed the Rotary club. His topic was a bit of almost forgotten history respecting Johnon county in Wyoming and the cattle war that waged there during the early Nineties.

Guests of the club were H. W. Hobie, vice princial of the high school; Lloyd Geist, vice principal of the elementary schools; Edward Franz, coach and physical education instructor at the high school; Charles Parsons, shop instructor; and Thomas Kane of Texas, Mr. Kjorlie's brother in law, visiting here.

In the late Fifties, Mr. Dennison said, a wagon train enroute to the West Coast, was overtaken by winter storms in Wyoming. They abandoned their wagons and cattle and beat a hasty retreat. On their return in the spring, they were surprised to find that most of their stock had survived the winter. This circumstance led, in the early Sixties, to a new enterprise. Long horns were purchased in Texas and driven north into Montana and Wyoming and after fattening there for a few months on the abundant grass, were sold at much enhanced prices. Steers costing from $8 to $15 in Texas, sold in the north at from $30 to $40 per head, and in those days of little or no taxes, and small overhead, handsome profits were made in trailing cattle. In time the Powder river country became the domain of big cattle men, usually with big herds. Notable Englishmen came out to engage in the cattle business.

As time passed farmers and owners of small herds of cattle gained a foothold there, and gradually a feud developed between the association of ownes of the big herds and an organization of the smaller cattle owners and farmers.

From occasional waylayings and murders to group warfare between the two factions developed. Finally an organized band of ex-sheriffs and deputies from out of state brought in by train, to aid the larger association and the feud rapidly progressed to a county wide battle. The band from the outside murdered two men and were then themselves beseiged. The acting governor of the state called on President Harrison for help, and troops were rushed to

Officers Learn Real Meaning Of Woman's Fury

"No fury is ike the fury of a woman scorned."

That's a quotation to which the Nevada City police officers and City Judge Miles Coughlin vehemently disagree. They believe the quotation should read:

"No fury is like the fury of a woman who is told she has overindulged in intoxicants."

Officers Clifford Bonivert and Lynn Davies made the mistake of overtaking, in the police patrol car, an automobile which zig-zagged its way through Washington Street and narrowly crashed into the bridge railing.

From then on the policemen were confronted with a veritable hurricane. They would rather have faced bank robbers with sub-machine guns.

Wishing to be polite, they asked Mrs. Doris Marie Straling, anywhere from 22 to 27 years of age, to get out from behind the wheel and let her companion Omar Tonella drive, inasmuch as it appeared she had a dring too many.

"What are you so and so hick cops trying to do to me," Mrs. Straling shouted.

It was late at night and of course any unusual noises are apt to arouse the neighborhood. Mrs. Straling's tone of voice must have been unusual for soon there was a whole group of people around.

"If you think I'm going to leave this wheel, you're crazy," Mrs. Straling told the officers. Her abuse led the officers to believe she should not escape without a citation of some sort so they gave her a ticket for driving on the wrong side of the road.

Then Mrs. Straling was really aroused. Words flew rapidly from her mouth and they were not gentle. She was going to drive the car. She had not been drinking, except for one beer and she wasn't going to be dictated to by "hick country cops."

Several times Mrs. Straling started the car but Tonella turned off the ignition. When it appeared only brute force would compel Mrs. Straling from driving away and possibly endanger the lives of other motorists and pedestrians, Officers Bonivert and Davies pulled her from her automobile. In the melee Bonivert suffered scratches on the hand.

In court before Judge Miles Coughlin Tuesday morning, Mrs. Straling pleaded guilty to the charge of drunken driving.

"If taking one drink of beer is intoxication," Mrs. Straling said. "I must have been drunk. I'll plead guilty whether I om or not."

Judge Coughlin refused to accept the plea in that frame of mind. Finally she said: "I'm guilty."

Coughlin then asked for testimony to determine the degree of the offense and Officer Bonivert began to testify. Ordinarily, such cases last only a short while but with the continual arguing of Mrs. Straling with the officers and her husband, the case consumed more than an huor.

When Judge Coughlin pronounced the sentence of $100 fine or 50 days in the county jail, the defendant remarked:

"Cash on the line, I suppose."

"Yes, cash on the line to you," snapped Judge Coughin.

Mrs. Straling objected to having her fingerprints taken but her her objections vanished when her husband told her every one is being fingerprinted nowadays.

"You must like to hold my hands," she told Chief of Police Max Solaro while he was taking the third set of prints. "Do you want to hold my head afterwards?"

Mrs. Straling's husband left immediately after the sentence to attempt to raise the $100 for the fine. Late Tuesday evening he received the money from a sister in Los Angeles and Mrs. Straling was released from the county jail.

The Stralings reside in Terminal Island, near Los Angeles. Mrs. Straling is a former resident of this city.

SOFGE TO ATTEND HIGHWAY MEET AT LAKE TAHOE

Fred Taton, manager of the Sacramento district for the State Chamber of Commerce, has written H. F. Sofge urging him to be present at the meeting of the State Highway Commission at Lake Tahoe on Friday, August 29. Sofge, secretary of the local chamber of commerce is a member of the State Chamber's Highway committee, and for two years past has been energetically for the improvement of the Tahoe Ukiah highway west grade into Bear Valley, where the number of serious accidents indicate the imperative need of a better grade, wider road and fewer sharp curves.

Buff Penrose of North Bloomfield spent Tuesday in this city on business.

Supervisors Protest Inclusion Of Army Camp In Nevada County

A resolution, authorized by the Nevada County Board of Supervisors, is being drawn up today by District Attorney Stoll in protest to any part of the proposed $25,000,000 army cantonment in the Erle district being included in Nevada County.

The resolution will be sent to the Department of War, United States Senators Hiram W. Johnson and Sheridan Downey and Congressman Harry L. Englebright.

The board of supervisors, in taking the action protesting the penetration of the cantonment into Nevada County land, heeded the request of landowners of the lower end of the county, who said their means of livelihood would be cut off if the army camp included their ranches.

It was reported in Marysville that Congressman Lea has been informed the boudaries of the cantonment would penetrate into Nevada County five miles.

It is not believed the protest of the local board will do any good for the ranchers who oppose the cantonment on their property.

The army had desired no opposition to their cantonment plans but apparently are prepared to take the necessary measure to acquire the property over the protests of the

THE AMERICAN DOUGHBOY

Spiking rumors of low morale in the army camps, State Commander William J. Farrell told the American Legion convention at Sacramento last week that the American doughboy of 1941 is just a chip off the old block — a soldier who will carry out the best traditions of the AEF of yesterday, if called upon to do so.

"The boys in the training camps today are just as good as any boys who ever served," said Commander Farrell. "They are the equal to any army, and there is just as much love of country among them as ever before."

The American doughboy gripes about his chow as a matter of course; he berates his non-coms (to his buddies); he's 'cusses out the swivel chair boys who order his life and frequently lose his paycheck or his service record; he goes AWOL. from time to time, and does a hitch in the guardhouse; he has a girl back home and a girl in the town nearest his camp; he thinks war is the bunk (as who doesn't), but no matter how many times he parades—he never fails to feel a stir in his tummy as he passes Old Glory. He's just a buck private, a growling, complaining fightin' man, but when he goes into action—he's son-of-a--gun on wheels.

To the boys of the Legion, the talk about "low morale" is just a lot of bologna. And no wonder; they used to gripe a bit themselves!—Contributed.

FRANCE GOES NAZI

The evidence mounts, day by day, that the Vichy government of France has gone Nazi. Petain, the once proud "soldier of France," is seemingly powerless. Hitler's puppet regime, it appears, will rubber-stamp almost anything Germany demands. And this country, which has a great affection for the old France—the real France—is on the verge of war with Nazi France.

This war has brought many tragic and ironic dislocations of old alliances. Finland, the only nation which punctually and pridefully paid its war debts to America, is fighting on the side of Hitler. Red Russia, whose agitators did everything within their power to disrupt American industry and slow down our production, is now pleading for our aid under the lease-lend program. But the saddest development of all, to most Americans, is a captive France, allied with Hitler.

There are, of course, the Free French—still fighting for liberty, even though their country is in chains. There are even Frenchmen willing to kill other Frenchmen —in defense of what they hold most dear; in defense of freedom. It is well to remebber that it isn't France which has gone Nazi; it is just Hitler-controlled regime, now operating out of Vichy. But nonetheless, it is one of the most profound tragedies of our times.—Contributed.

DON'T LAUGH AT THE MONKEYS

Next time you go to the zoo to laugh at the antics of the mokers, don't laugh too hard. Take time out to consider that if there were a very slight shift in intelligence—the smallest kind of a shift—human beings would move into those monkey cages and the apes and monkeys would take over the world!

The authority for that definitely deflating declaration is the noted zoological expert, Carey N. Baldwin, head of San Francisco's Zoological Gardens. Mr. Boldwin insn't joking, either. The great apes, he says, are the smartest of all "lower" animals, with chimpanzees ranking first in intelligence, orang outangs second, and gorillas third.

In view of current world conditions, Mr. Baldwin's remarks aren't as ludicrous as they might sound. At least the monkeys have learned to live in the same cage without killing each other. They chatter and spat a lot, to be sure, but most of their fighting is just Maxie Baer clowning—for the edification of the folks who provide the peanuts. And if we ponder the mad war of annihilation now raging in our "civilized" world, with its sword-rattling Hitlers and swaggering Mussolinis, the monkeys look smart by comparison.—Contributed

A MAN'S WORK

Two years ago, California was in the throes of its second bitter campaign over the Ham and Eggs pension amendment. Elder citizens, seeking security in their latter years, turned out by the tens of thousands for mass meetings in every section of the state rallying to the promoter's shrill cry of Thirty-Every-Thursday. Dangerous as that scheme was to California, and as misleading as it was, thoughtful voters, who helped to defeat it, found little cause for elation when it was decisively rejected. For deeply-etched in their memory was the pitiful picture of an army of oldsters, who had been given hope—even though it was a false hope—and then found it snatched away.

California, to be sure, has the most generous old age pension system of any state in the nation, but even the most liberal pension is a palliative, not a cure. Actually, a man's work is the breath of life; his reason for being. And so there is deep cause for satisfaction in the word that comes from Washington that the present emergency is making work for many elder citizens, whose work was unwanted during the years of depression.

More than 2500 persons a month are giving up their old age insurance benefits temporarily in order to return to work, according to the Social Security Board. All in this group are men and women past 65—workers with gnarled hands, but strong hearts; elder citizens glad because their services are needed again, and only too happy to servie their country in defense production. That, we can't help but believe, will make them happier than any dream of pension riches any promoter could concoct. That is a man's work!—Contributed.

we have witnessed on the part of a little cable using the Downieville highway as an ambush, may be due entirely to the fact, that one of the strong supporters of SRA has a ranch which he had leased to SRA. When the governor and the economy bloc finally moved into a stalemate, in which the SRA died for lack of sustenance, rentals on the ranch stopped and that caused pocket pains. Even though the high tide of SRA spending had ebbed and had left several thousand of dollars worth of permanent improvements on the ranch, rich flotsam for a friend of the governor, the rental severance pain caused considerable agony. Ye editor doubtless grabbed his trusty typewriter and emitted a loud rat-tat-tat for Harry See, and it is quite possible that in the Downieville highway-whodunnit editorial we have the answer as regards Senator Seawell's opponent come next general election.

So let us tuck this Harry See incident away for future reference. There are several ways of skinning a cat and devious ways of undermining an incumbent in office. But let us note sharply that the only benefaction conferred by Harry See, as confessed in the page-wide "proof" offered by ye mountain editor, was that he had the presence of mind to grab a phone on the signing of the appropriation bill for the relief of flood victims and phone the good news all the way to Downieville. It was a noble deed, indeed, but hardly one to have warranted spilling so much news ink on bright white paper.

Registration of freshmen and upper classmen at the high school was completed yesterday with an approximate 200 on the rolls. A year ago the registration peak for the term was 270. However, registrations are made during the first two or three weeks of school which usually bring the total to a higher number than that of the first enrollment figures. Registration of students in the elementary schools are proceeding today.

STATE CONSTRUCTION MAY BE HALTED BY U. S. PRIORITIES

By JOHN W. DUNLAP
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 21.—(UP)—The job of construction and building in these days of national defense has become very trying ,not alone to the private concerns but to the state of California.

The problem of getting priority "go-aheads" from the office of production management is a knotty one. So many state projects were getting hung up that a concerted move was begun to get some preference for official work.

One move was the trip to Washington of Deputy Finance Director John M. Welsh, armed with authority to represent the state defense council and the state of California. He conferred with leading federal officials to cut some of the red tape surrounding priorities.

For example, one proposed project was the Rector dam in Napa county, long debated in the legislature before approval was received to go ahead with the $1,400,000 structure at the last session. Now the OPM indicates materials may not be avaiable, although the dam is to benefit the Yountville Veterans home and surrounding territory.

Another doubtful project is the $2,000,000 addition to the University of California hospital authorized by the legislature. One of the main arguments for its approval was the fact that the military services are lacking trained doctors, and this hospital would provide new facilities for such training.

Many new highway projects are underway or proposed, particularly near military establishments where rapid communication is a necessity. The state is a major consumer of all types of commodities and will insist on priorities as long as any are available.

The state also has inaugurated a warehouse system of storing supplies and buying in larger amounts, to avoid delays in having orders filled.

No longer will the Communist party have a place on the California ballot because of a double barreled ban against it.

The legislature in 1940 outlawed the party from the ballot, and the act has not been found invaled. But even if it should, the legislature passed the Poole bill last session, which provides that any party which, 25 days prior to the last preceding primary election, has less than 2500 affiliates, shall not be continued. Since the state registration of the party for the August 1940 primary election was only 729, the Communist group clearly will be disenfranchised. The Poole act becomes effective after Sept. 13, along with the other legislation enacted.

The progressive party also seems doomed to elimination in the state, which would leave only the Republican, Democratic, Townsend and the Prohibition groups legally on the ballot.

Assemblyman Nelson Dilworth of Hemet sponsored a bill which said that any party, to remain on the ballot must poll a fixed percentage of the governorship election vote total by one of its own members. The former act only required a certain vote for any person running on the party ticket, based on the highest vote polled by any candidate who had the nomination of the certain party.

Thus, for example, State Controller Harry Riley, by getting more than two milion votes as the joint nominee of the Republican, Democrat, Townsend and Progressive parties, woud keep them all on the ballot in ensuing elections, regardless of the fact he was a registered republican.

The last gubernatorial vote in 1938 saw Raymond Haight get only 64,418 votes as the Progressive nominee, not the required 3 per cent of the total to keep the party on the ballot in 1942.

The Commonwealth party was also wiped off the ballot in 1938 when Robert Noble polled only 23,787 votes for governor.

Assemblyman Gerald Kepple of Whittier has announced he will retire from the legislature and his private law practice to devote his full time as an official and counsel for a telephone company in Whittier. It would not be surprising to see other legislators drop out of the picture, because of the grief and demand upon a member's time is hardly worth the return, leaving aside the normal sacrifice in the interest of public service.

Kepple was one of a group of conservatives who helped overthrow Gov. Olson's domination of the lower house. He was a leader of the "economy bloc" in 1939 and 1940, although not so active the last session. Kepple was fell liked, capable and level headed, important characistics so urgently needed in government in these critical times.

FEWER HUNTERS OUT FOR DEER

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 21.—(UP)—State game officials are not sure of the reason but it was indicated today that 1941 deer hunters will bag fewer animals than the reported kill in 1940.

During the first two weeks of the coast season, on the basis of deer tags turned in to the state offices, of the bureau of game conservation, the deer bag was generally above the corresponding period in 1940. But for the first 16 days of the season, there were 6,381 head taken as compared to a total of 6,952 for the same period in 1940.

One factor suggested was that fewer hunters were in the mountains this year, because of many men being recruited into the military services, and more persons being employed in important defense work which did not permit taking time off to hunt deer.

Mendocino county reported the greatest bag for the 16 day period, with 1,550 Columbia black tail deer taken by hunters. Lake county was next with 883 bucks. Glenn county was third with 486.

THIS WEEK in DEFENSE

OPM Director Knudsen, speaking in New York, said that by next July defense production will be at its peak and "after that America can write its own ticket on war material and it can be twice anybody else's ticket." To do this, however, small communities and manufacturers must be willing to band together to seek defense work, he said.

AGRICULTURE

Agriculture Secretary Wickard announced there is no apparent prospect of food rationing "in the foreseeable future" although the nation may have to depend more on some foods than others. He said there are 17 per cent more cattle on feed for market in the 11 cornbelt states than a year ago and the corn crop will exceed last year's by nearly 150,000,000 bushels.

In a letter to Mr. Wickard, the president said "increases in the production of vital foods and feeds is reassuring because food is a weapon against Hitlerism just as much as munitions."

The CCC agreed to furlough enrollees so they might help harvest where labor shortages exist. The work would be voluntary and the enrollees would receive the prevailing wage. Congress passed a measure forbidding the government to dispose of any cotton or wheat now in its bins except for domestic and foreign relief, export or lease-lend aid. The bill also permits farmers to use excess wheat for flour or food without penalty and extends 85 per cent parity loans to peanut growers.

AIR

The OPM announced 1,460 military planes were produced in July. War Secretary Patterson, dedicating a new plane factory, said the monthly output of combat planes increased 114 per cent in the last nine months and production of other military planes increased 105 per cent. Speaking at the same ceremonies, Chief of Army Air Corps Brett said that American planes abroad have had "great success."

ARMY

The senate committee investigating the defense program issued a report stating that costs of the army's one billion dollar camp construction program were "unduly and unnecessarily high" because of lack of planning. War Under Secretary Patterson replied that despite cold weather, labor and material shortages and other "almost insurmountable difficulties" the camps were ready before the time set for troop arrival and the American Army "is now the best housed army in the world."

LABOR

A WPA survey showed unemployment declined 300,000 in July to 5,600,000—nearly four million less than last July. The Bureau of Employment Security reported job placements of persons under 21 years increased 78 per cent in the past year. The bureau also reported placements of Negroes are 47 per cent higher than six months ago.

LICENSE PLATE METAL

The OPACS requested state motor vehicle officials to require motorists to hand in their 1941 license plates when they get 1942 tags. The OPACS arranged for metal for the new tags because time was too short to seek substitutes but stated no sheet metal will be available for 1943 tags.

'CAUGHT IN THE DRAFT' TO OPEN HERE SUNDAY

Bob Hope, comedian lands right in the middle of Uncle Sam's armament program in "Caught in the Draft," Paramount's all-out comedy opening Sunday at the Nevada Theatre. You can be sure there were plenty of fireworks—the kind that's filled with laughing gags.

One minute after Bob fires the opening gun, the whole theatre is thrown into an uproar. For Bob, taking the part of a movie actor engaged in making a war picture, has given the "Over the top!" signal to his men and then screams frantically when he discovers that his pistol is really loaded.

The gun-shy actor next creates a laugh riot when he finds himself in the army as the result of a practical joke which back fired on himself. "Caught in the Draft" may not be a true version of everything the army has to offer its rookies, but Bob Hope and his comedy corps certainly manage to give army life a new twist—the kind even the draftees will enjoy.

Two Tunnels Being Driven Into Ancient Channel At Treasure Ledge Gold Mine

Driving of two tunnels into an ancient gravel channel is proceeding on claims south of Downieville controlled by the Treasure Ledge Gold Mines, Inc. The channel is said to range from 180 to 400 feet in width. Plans provide for a development campaign costing $25,000.

Work is proceeding under the supervision of Thomas McGrath mining engineer. The corporation controls eight claims. A geophysical survey of the channel was made recently and the tunnels are expected to expose important gold deposits in virgin territory. Eugene H. Burris is president and general manager.

Government Will Be Asked To Survey Defense Metals Deposits In Sierra County

The Sierra County Board of Supervisors may attempt to interest the United States Government in chrome and aluminum deposits said to exist in that county.

The ways of obtaining the interest of the government in the mineral deposits were discussed with Supervisor Guerdon Ellis of the Tahoe National Forest at a meeting of the supervisors in Downieville. Ellis met with the Sierra board to talk over road problems but the mineral angle entered into the discussion.

TUNNEL WORK CONTINUING

The driving of the crosscut connecting the Zeibright Mine with the Yuba River is continuing on both ends.

There are approximately 60 men employed at the Zeibright at the present time.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

BENEVOLENCE

To feel much for others, and little for ourselves; to restrain our selfish, and exercise our benevolent affections, constitutes the perfection of human nature.—Adam Smith.

Benevolent feeling ennobles the most trifling actions.—Thackery.

The place of charity, like that of God, is everywhere.—Quarles.

Sweeter than the balm of Gilead, richer than the diamonds of Golconda, dear as the friendship of those we love, are justice, fraternity and Christian charity.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Do not wait for extraordinary circumstances to do good actions; try to use ordinary situations.—Richter.

Charity is never lost: it may meet with ingratitude, or be of no service to those on whom it was bestowed, yet it ever does a work of beauty and grace upon the heart of the giver—Middeton.

—Christian Science Society

The Christian Science Society of Nevada City holds service at 114 Boulder Street every Sunday at 11 a. m. Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. A testimonial meeting is held the first Wednesday of each month at 8 p. m.

"Mind" will be the subject of the lesson sermon Sunday.

The Golden Text will be: "Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him?" (I Cor. 2: 16). Other Bible citations will include: "And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may rove what is that good and acceptable, and perfect, will of God. If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men" (Rom. 12: 2, 18).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following pasage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mankind will improve through Science and Christianity. The necessity for uplifting the race is father to the fact that Mind can do it; for Mind can impart purity instead of impurity, strength instead of weakness, and health instead of disease" (p. 371).

The Brunswick and Idaho-Maryland mill and surface employees total 181 while the private operating payroll is 47.

Employment at the Idaho-Maryland properties increased considerably during the past month.

FAIR EXHIBIT WILL STRESS COUNTY'S MINES

Nevada County's mining exhibit at the state fair, which opens a week from tomorrow in Sacramento, will be one of the best attractions at the annual event, according to Loyle Freeman and L. G. Lageson co-managers of the exhibit.

Freeman and Lageson have been busy for the past several weeks lining up the Nevada County booth. The minerals of the county as in past years, will be the principal theme of the exhibit, although agriculture will be stressed.

The two men have obtained excellent high grade specimens from the mines of the county. George and Andrew Carey of this city will have high grade ore from their property at Mt. Oro displayed.

PERJURY CHARGE IS RECOMMENDED FOR FALSE STATEMENTS IN QUESTIONNAIRE

The Nevada County Selective Service Board and the state headquarters of the Selective Service have recommended to the federal district attorney that Timothy Riley, 25, who registered under the Selective Service Act in this county, be prosecuted for perjury.

On his questionnaire, Riley stated he was married and listed the woman and her child as dependents. Through investigation the local Selective Board determined Riley was not married to the woman.

Inasmuch as the case was one of the most flagrant violations of the law encountered by the local Selective Service Board and wsihing to discourage a practice of deliberate falsifying statements in questionnaires, the perjury charge against Riley was recommended.

Riley at present is serving a county jail sentence for night hunting of deer.

Supervisors Protest Camp

landowners.

The army had asked the local board to abandon all the roads within the cantonment area. Instead the board passed the resolution of protest.

However, if the army does take over the area definitely, the supervisors will no doubt abandon the roads.

The cantonment, if built, would cost at least $25.000,000 and would cover approximately 70,000 acres. It has been estimated in excess of 10,000 of the acres would be in Nevada County.

Because of better drainage facilities, it is believed by some that the barracks and other buildings will be constructed nearer Grass Valley than Marysville.

The water problems for the cantonment has been investigated by two water experts.

It is beleved at least 3,000,000 gallons of water per day will be necessary for the cantonment. The army figures each man needs 200 gallons of water each day. The water is used for streets, baths and other necessities.

Although the funds for the cantonment have not yet been allocated by congress, plans for the camp are proceeding. One hundred draftsmen wth the Lippencott and Bowen architectural firm have arrived in Marysville to draw the plans and specifications.

YUBA CITY PREPARES FOR INFLUX OF PEOPLE DUE TO ARMY CAMP

YUBA CITY — Directors of the Sutter county chamber of commerce yesterday delegated Keith Kenyon, secretary, and District Attorney Lloyd Hewitt to make an investigation in cities adjacent to Camp San Luis Obispo to learn what problems this community may face with the establishment of an army cantonment in nearby Yuba county.

Warren Shingle, president of the Marysville district chamber of commerce, addressed the Sutter directors Tuesday and warned that the coming of the cantonment will create major problems for housing, transportation, school accommodations and recreation.

Housing Acute

Shingle said the housing need will come first and become most acute, predicting that 70 per cent of the new home building must be done in Yuba City inasmuch as Marysville has only a limited area in which to expand residential subdivisions.

Asked by Supervisor Harold Moore if he anticipated an official announcement regarding cantonment, Shingle said he believed none would be forthcoming. He pointed out that army officials already have arrived to establish offices and headquarters in Marysville and that scores of engineers, architects and appraisers are moving in daily.

40,000 Soldiers

"It is not the style nowadays to declare wars or to make official announcements of plans," Shingle remarked, adding that he was certain the camp boildings will start going up as soon as plans are cmplete and and titles are cleared. The cantonment is intended to accommodate 40.000 soldiers, he said, and is now estimated as a $25,000,000 project.

During the period that the camp is building, the community must provide housing for 6000 civilian workers, Shingle predicted and surveys indicate that the camp will bring a new population of 10,000 persons, many of whom will remain in the Marysville-Yuba City district permanently.

800,000 Visitors At State Fair Are Expected

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 21.—(UP)—The 220 acre California state fair grounds today presented a panorama of activity as workmen prepared buildings and grounds for the ten day exposition opening August 29.

As the statewide scrip sale campaign was launched, officials estimated this years' fair would attract attendance of 800,000 and that 35 counties probably would participate in exhibits.

Exhibits already are being installed by Siskiyou, Butte, Solano, Nevada, Shasta, Placer, Los Angeles, Sacramento, Lassen, Sutter, Fresno, Yolo, Humboldt, Contra Costa, Ventura and San Joaquin Counties.

Fair officials said the scrip books offered at bargain prices by more than 400 chambers of commerce, 4-H clubs, Future Farmers of America chapters, service clubs, farm organizations and stores throughout California will be the "open sesame" for visitors.

A percentage of the sales made by Future Farmers and 4-H members will be returned to the clubs for use in purchasing agricutural equipment and products. The sale ends at midnight August 28.

Meanwhile, anticipating a sharp increase in the number of California wine and brandy exhibits directors announced selection of 18 judges to determine prize winners.

the scene. This action definitely put a stop to the feud, but, Mr. Dennison stated the bad feeling engendered still continues in the Powder river country. While teaching there he stated the grandson a man named Tisdale, murdered in the early frays between the two factions, bitterly taunted the grandson of the man, who, it was generally believed, was the slayer.

JAN VALTIN SEEKS PARDON FROM OLSON

Jan Valtin, German born author of the book "Out of The Night" asked Governor Olson for a pardon yesterday to "frustrate Nazi and communist efforts to deliver me to Hitler's headmen for having become an implacable foe of totalitarian methods of government."

In an applicatin submitted under his real name, Richard Julius Herman Krebs the 3* year old former seaman and writer formally began a fight for clemency that already has prompted the receipt of a heavy file of correspondence both urging and opposing a pardon.

The application was forwarded to the state advisory pardon board for study and recommendation, a procedure followed in all aplications for executive clemency.

Valtin, an inmate of San Quentin prison from October 1926 to December 1929 when he was paroled, pleaded guilty 15 years ago to charge of assault with a deadly weapon in Los Angeles county. His term expired April 21, 1933.

The application told of his conviction by a Nazi special tribunal at Hamburg for high treason against the Hitler government and his subsequent escape from Germany.

At the present time, he said, the question of deporting him to Germany is in the hands of the department of justice, while a bill is pending before congress to direct the attorney general to record Valtin's latest entrance into the United States as lawful for the purpose of permanent residence.

A pardon for his California crime committed before he was 21, Valtin wrote, would be an important factor when congressional committeemen consider the bill.

Wild Duck Hatch Reported Large

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 21.—(UP)—The state bureau of game conservation today reported the duck hatch on all northern waterfowl ranges has been heavy.

The early hatch is practically fully developed and birds are flying according to the report.

However, the outlook for pheasants is not so promising. The bureau said that in the Gridley area pheasant broods which have been seen are not as large as in previous years.

On the Suisun Refuge more broods have been noted than in years past. The bureau said this is probably because the river has been high and salt water from the bay has not backed up in sloughs.

Antelope In Northern California Number 5000
